

“The sky is blank but beautiful.
Nothing will ever be the same—
a cup of emptiness to fill,
symbols shaped into a name.”

Rachel Hadas, “The Bees of the Invisible”